

Spartanburg City Council approves property transfer for new home construction

TUESDAY, JANUARY 12

New home to be constructed in Liberty Heights neighborhood

At their first meeting of 2021, Spartanburg City Council voted 6-0 to approve a property transfer for construction of a new home in the Liberty Heights neighborhood. City Council member Ruth Littlejohn was absent from the meeting. The vacant city-owned parcel will be transferred to JBKM Property Group, LLC, which will construct a new single family home on the property to be sold to an eligible purchaser.

In other action, City Council voted 6-0 to name Council member Jamie Fulmer Mayor Pro Tempore for 2021. In the role, Fulmer will perform the duties of the Mayor's office when Mayor Junie White is not in attendance for official City Council business. Council members rotate the position annually.
